CROWD AT THE GAMES

PACIFIC AVENUE PLAYGROUND OPENING WAS A VERY GREAT SUCCESS

Those ladies who labored so faithfully to make the opening of the Pacific avenue playground a success must have been highly gratified at the success of their labors. The net profits of the various departments on Saturday is about $75. Besides this, Mrs. Ella Richardson was successful in obtaining about $100 more from subscriptions. The result of all this activity is that the Pacific avenue playground is fitted up in a very excellent manner.

Future ball games played at the play ground can be viewed in comfort from the very commodious stand which has been erected on the west side of the grounds. This stand will seat 300 people. It was found highly convenient on Saturday when the Santa Fe general office boys played the College alumni. This was an interesting game resulting in the victory of the alumni by 15 to 4. The batteries were Santa Fe: Patten, Lee, Woodford and Martin; alumni: Perticu and O'Connor.

Throughout the afternoon large crowds of people witnessed the various games. The ball game was the center of much interest and when it was over, the tennis singles and doubles held the attention of an interested and delighted throng. The playing was well up to the average and at times was even brilliant, as was expected from stars of the first magnitude. The players pronounced the new court superior to most courts in Southern California. It is spacious, well laid down and completely enclosed.

An excellent game was played by Miss Florence Sutton and Miss Laura McVey against Miss Mary Browne and Miss Gladys Dowling in the ladies' doubles. The score was 9-7, 9-5.

In the mixed doubles the match was a draw, each side taking a set apiece. Miss Florence Sutton and Mr. Nat B. Browns won the first set, 7-5. Miss Mary Browne and Mr. Simpson M. Sinsabaugh won the second set, 9-7.

Quite a brisk business was done by the ladies who were selling lemonade on the grounds and the cafeteria toward evening was well patronized. In every way the day was a great success and the play ground is being taken advantage of by many children. Indeed one of the most useful functions of the play ground is that it serves as a safe and p'easing refuge for children whose parents are compelled to be out all day at work. There are s veral families in that position and the children are looked after all day on the grounds. Miss Rowe is winning much praise and commendation on all hands for her tact and kindness in dealing with the children. In short the summer play ground has already justified itself in the eyes of the community.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

It was a delightful service which was had at this church Sunday morning and a special blessing to be able to set together on heavenly places in Christ Jesus, which is the only way to describe it. On the platform were six ministers of the gospel, headed by our own Rev. Dr. Dungan and running from his long and faithful service down to a young man just about to assume his first pastorate, having just finished his education and been ordained—Mr. Elden Rose—whose father, Rev. Morton L. Rose of Watsonville, preached the sermon of the morning. Rev. Walter Jordan of Butte, Mont., a great power in that important city; Rev. H. F. Ritz of Anaconda, Mont.; Rev. Young of Washington, with Mr. Francis, completed the sextette. As these men had all been associated with or had studied under Prof. Dungan, and most of them were mutual friends, it was a gathering and a fellowship long to be remembered.

The hearts of all were so full that it was with difficulty Mr. Rose could get down to his subject, which was "Christ Lifted Up Will Draw All Men Unto Himself." No attempt will be made to outline it, but it is sufficient to say that it was full of meat and if you missed it you have missed something valuable.

The evening sermon, also by Mr. Ritz, on "Know, Grow, Go," proved that he has the true philosophy of the great commission and he impressed this in an unique and very interesting way.

Altogether, it was a day of especial interest to the church. The Bible school was large for midsummer, the men's class having over thirty present. The pastor has been granted a month's leave of absence for vacation. Announcement as to the "supply" will be made from week to week.

AMONG INYO PEAKS

DR. L. N. RUDY AND PARTY HAVE FINE TRIP TO SOURCE OF AQUEDUCT

If the climate of Inyo mountains could be set down in Glendale just about noon, there would be considerable cooling off on the part of overheated citizens. Dr. L. N. Rudy and his family, along with Dr. E. F. Archer and his father, made a trip by auto recently to Bishop and higher up in the mountains, returning home this week. The trip was made by auto, the doctor purchasing a Ford specially for the journey, as he did not like to take his fine car up the rough roads. He says that in the Inyo hills it was as cool as anyone could desire it in these hot days.

Leaving Glendale the party motored to Mojave and thence along the high road that parallels the California and Arizona railroad that runs to the aqueduct region. Turning off the high road at Jawbone canyon, the party motored up the canyon and finally reached Bishop after spending one night in the open. The scenery was quite a revelation to the Glendale people. Dr. Rudy comes from Missouri and he says that it looks as though someone had cut a piece of Missouri or Iowa and dropped it down in the summits of the Inyo mountains. The climate, the red clover, red-top and timothy, the red astrakhan apples, the currants, the hogs and cattle—all look just as such features appear in Missouri or Iowa. The cattle are extraordinarily fat; the pastures are of such an extent that the eye cannot take them all in at once.

In one way, however, the rest of the party say Inyo county differs widely from Missouri or Iowa. It is irrigated by a hundred rushing streams that leap out from under the snowbanks and tumble fresh, clear and cool down their rugged mountain beds. Water is everywhere and of the finest crystal coolness and purity. Every stream abounds in trout. One of the party caught 100 fine large trout the first morning and every day as many trout as were needed for food were easily had. Photographs of scenes by the way show the doctor and his friends with prodigious strings of trout, so that this is no "fish" story.

The Owens river valley is one of the most beautiful parts of California. Indeed, it has been called "the Switzerland of the United States." It is well worth a visit and is an ideal spot to spend a vacation. The party went on some forty miles up in the hills from Bishop and visited Lakes Mary and George, a scene of unrivaled beauty where the silence is so deep and absolute that it is eloquent with the power of God. The serrated peaks look like kings of chaos stayed in their march of creation by the voice of the morning stars.

Mammoth, the resting place of the party, is a picturesque spot, a favorite summer resort. As it is 8000 feet above the level of the sea, Dr. Rudy's remark that it would be appreciated in Glendale these days can readily be understood.

Among parties met with in the hills was Colonel Thornton, a former resident of Glendale, who has a beautiful ranch in the mountains. The journey was about 350 miles and was a revelation to those who went. The route passed through San Fernando, Newhall, Saugus, ElizabethLake, Willow Springs, Mojave, Independence, Cinco, Jawbone canyon, Lone Pine, Big Pine, Bishop and all along the route of the aqqueduct, and back by Red Rock canyon. The scenery all along the road is unequaled.

The party was deeply impressed by the aqueduct itself. Most of the country from Elizabeth Lake to Owens Lake is desert, sand and sage brush. The only signs of life were an occasional jackrabbit and a few coyotes. The so-called towns are only places where water can be had, where possibly there is a store, postoffice and a few houses.

Following the great aqueduct the party was astonished by the magnitude of this work and realized what a task the engineers must have had hauling food and material into the hills. The great steel siphons that carry the water up and down the mountains and over the deep gulches filled them with astonishment. Three hundred miles away is the great city of Los Angeles, with its half million people, for whom this splendid cool water is brought down. Forty miles north of Bishop is what is known as the Long valley. In this valley are the headwaters of the Owens river. Hundreds of creeks feed that lake and bring the purest of ice-cold water from the hills.

There in that sweetly cool mountain retreat, among the gushing springs, the rushing streams and their leaping trout, the party spent one of the most pleasant vacations it has ever been their fortune to enjoy. Their experience has taught them that the slogan, "See California first," is a profitable piece of advice.

CONVENTION ECHOES

CHRISTIAN CHURCH CONCLAVE REPRESENTS 1,500,000 MEMBERS

Every member of the Christian church in Glendale was so busy attending the sessions of the convention in Los Angeles last week that little was written for The News, although this was one of the most momentous occasions, so far as the disciples are concerned, in the history of the church on the Pacific coast.

A convention which represents a membership of almost a million and a half, with delegates from nearly every quarter of the globe, should make some ripple in the community, even in so great a convention city as Los Angeles, and the attention given by the newspapers as well as by prominent people, was very gratifying. It was demonstrated beyond question that this church has a ministry of as much ability as any church in the world, and that in execution, harmony and every quality that goes to make a united, aggressive church, it has no superior, if indeed it has a rival.

One of the gems of the convention, however, which was a great loss to anyone who failed to hear it, was the address of welcome on behalf of the churches of Los Angeles by Rev. Jas. A. Francis of the Baptist church, which so scintillated with brilliance and wit and which showed such a spirit of broad-mindedness, Christian love and desire for unity, that it fairly took the convention off its feet.

The address of Mr. Bryan on Friday afternoon on the "First Commandment" drew a packed house. The great Commoner was at his best, although it was his third or fourth speech of the day, and besides impressing upon his hearers gods which they should strive to avoid worshipping in place of the true God, he left no room to doubt his service to his country in a religious as well as in a political way.

Another gem was the address of John Willis Baer on Friday evening on "Character Caught, Not Taught." Space will not permit the mention of the fine addresses and prominent part taken by the ranks of the disciples. Most of them are household words among Christian church members, and nobody would think of a convention without their presence and participation.

More than anything else, the convention was remarkable for its sustained interest and for the sweet fellowship, which put aside all thought of vain glory or strife for position, which sometimes make themselves evident even among Christian people. The intense earnestness of the delegates was shown in the large attendance at every session, which is remarkable when all the attractions of Los Angeles and Southern California are considered. With such zeal and devotion as this the prayer of Jesus "that they all may be one," which is the leading tenet of this church, is bound to be fulfilled and that before many more years have rolled by. The idea is gaining even faster than its most devoted adherents had believed possible.

NASH & STORM PURCHASE THE THORPE AND BOSS GROCERY

A deal has just been consummated whereby W. F. Nash and J. E. Storm have purchased the Thorpe-Boss grocery at 486 W. Broadway. Mr. Nash is well known in Glendale, having lived here for the past five years and is an experienced grocery man. Mr. Storm until recently had been engaged in business at Lincoln, Neb. He has moved to Glendale with his wife and two daughters and has leased a pretty home at 142 S. Kenwood street.

JAPANESE FAIR DAY

SAN DIEGO, July 26.—Japanese will have their day at the San Diego exposition July 31, when sixteen local associations of the Japanese association of Southern California assemble at the fair.

Special events for the day are being worked out by representatives of the association and Messrs. Kondo and Hayashida, Japanese concessionaries, with extensive exhibits at the exposition. The exposition and Japanese of San Diego will be hosts to the visiting Nipponese.

Whenever your attention is arrested by a printed thing well done, stop and ask yourself: Can such work be done by the printer who figures lowest?

HONORS MOTHER

MRS. MUSIC HOSTESS TO OUT OF TOWN FRIENDS IN COMPLIMENT TO MRS. SHAUG

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Music of 435 S. Louise St. is the scene of a happy gathering to day, Mrs. Music entertaining at a luncheon in honor of her mother, Mrs. H. L. Shaug of Huntington Park who reaches the seventy fourth milestone on the journey of life to day. The affair was a complete surprise to Mrs. Shaug who had been invited to spend the day with the family and she was truly astonished and delighted to find a goodly company of old and dear friends to greet her and wish her many happy returns of the day.

Golden marigolds and other yellow blossoms were very appropriately used in decorating for this affair. The luncheon table was centered with a beautiful birthday cake surrounded with seventy four tiny yellow candles and surmounted with a miniature "mother" rocking a cradle. Pretty yellow baskets containing mints and other candies with jaunty bows of tulle on the handles stood at each cover. All of this yellow prettiness combined beautifully with the blue of the china and the guests found their places by means of cards bearing an appropriate sentiment and the pictured candlestick on the card contained a real yellow candle, the counterpart of those surrounding the cake.

Friends who enjoyed this happy occasion with Mrs. Shaug, in addition to the members of the family were: Mrs. Vincent and Mrs. I. J. Reynolds of Pasadena, Mrs. Kite of South Pasadena, Mrs. McElonan of Santa Monica, Mrs. James of Santa Barbara, Mrs. C. C. Johnson of Claremont, Mrs. Purdue of Los Angeles and Mrs. House of Ocean Park.

Mrs. Shaug is a native of Illinois but she has lived in California for the past forty years, much of that time in Los Angeles and vicinity and she has seen the metropolis of the south grow from a mere hamlet to its present proportions. This most estimable lady has many friends in Southern California who extend good wishes to her on this happy occasion. All of her children are living, Mrs. Music of Glendale and three sons who live in Los Angeles.

IOWANS WILL PICNIC

All former residents of the state of Iowa are hereby informed of the annual summer reunion and picnic of the Iowa association of Southern California. It will be held in beautiful Bixby park, Long Beach, all day Saturday, August 14.

The county registers will be in place, coffee free to all who buy a badge, and a jolly social reunion all day for everybody. Special cars direct to the park will leave often from the rear of the P. E. depot, Sixth and Main streets, Los Angeles. Transfers will be given to the park to all who go on regular cars. Prizes will be given to:

The oldest man present, native of Iowa.

The oldest woman present, native of Iowa.

The oldest married couple, both natives.

The oldest man and woman, not natives, but who lived in Iowa at least ten years.

The homeliest man, native Iowan, who presents himself as a candidate.

The Iowa association of Long Beach is helping in all plans and will join heartily in making it a great success. There will be a brief program about 2 o'clock. Judge Curtis D. Wilbur, our popular president, will preside. The invitation is for every Hawkeye to go and enjoy the reunion with old friends. Further information may be obtained of the secretary, C. H. Parsons, whose office is in the California Savings bank, corner of Fourth and Spring streets, Los Angeles.

DR. MORGAN VISITS GLENDALE

Many of the old settlers of the San Fernando Valley remember Dr. J. T. Morgan who over twenty five years ago was a practicing physician in this territory and whose office was located on the San Fernando Road. Dr. Morgan left Glendale over a score of years ago and has been residing at Springfield, Mo. and is now making his first visit in this vicinity since he left Glendale. Last Sunday he spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Phelon of Burchett St., and was very much astonished at the rapid progress of the San Fernando Valley as pointed out to him by Mr. Phelon in a delightful motor trip. Dr. Morgan's present address is 647 S. Grand avenue and he says he intends to make Southern California his permanent home and will have no use for his return ticket to Springfield.

TIME TO WIN AUTO

THIS WEEK OFFERS AN UNEXCELLED OPPORTUNITY FOR DARK HORSE TO ENTER

Second Extra Vote Offer

Here's the second big extra vote offer of the contest. Forty thousand extra votes will be issued on every $25 worth of new subscriptions to the Evening News or Tri-City Progress turned into the Glendale Evening News office between Saturday, July 17, and Saturday, July 31, at 8 o'clock p. m. All daily subscriptions to count on this offer must be for at least three months, and all subscriptions to the Tri-City Progress must be for one year or longer.

The real work in the Evening News great contest has just commenced and from indications of the race thus far a really energetic person, by entering this contest even this week, by well directed work, could win the capital prize, the $850 Maxwell touring car.

A prize valued at $850 is certainly worth winning in five weeks, and such an amount would handsomely pay anyone for spending their entire time on the proposition. Regular solicitors employed by The News are averaging more subscriptions daily than any one contestant in the race, and the management of The News will be glad to give information to any candidate now entered or any prospective entree of a territory where anyone who is a fairly good solicitor can secure between five and ten new subscriptions daily.

To win any prize worth while in this world takes work, and the successful winner of The News auto will have to put forth some effort to secure enough votes to win the first prize, or the second, or even the third.

The Glendale Evening News and its companion weekly, the Tri-City Progress, have paid correspondents in Tropico, North Glendale, Burbank, La Crescenta, La Canada, Eagle Rock, etc., and publish the local news from all the surrounding towns, making it easy for candidates to secure subscriptions from nearby towns, as well as from Glendale proper.

Six Big Vote Getting Days Left

There are just six days left of the second extra vote offer, and many can double their votes this week by turning in a number of $25 clubs of new subscriptions, 40,000 extra votes being issued on each club. While one's friends can assist materially in a campaign of this sort, it is certainly up to the contestant to do most of the real vote-getting, for if you are not interested enough to help yourself, it is certain no one else will take much of an interest in your campaign. Therefore, if you wish to be a prize winner in this "battle of ballots," make every day count from now until September 4.

FRESHMEN ARE ELIGIBLE

For the first time in history the U. S. C. team will invade the state of Utah next year to play the University of Utah at Salt Lake City. It is hoped that this game will serve as the first of a series of athletic contests between the opposing universities.

The University of Southern California, in common with numerous other institutions, has decided that freshmen are eligible to compete in intercollegiate contests, and its athletic season will be conducted under that arrangement next year. Fred W. Teschke, a popular student and four-year athlete of the university, has been elected athletic manager, and is taking hold of his new office vigorously. Teschke registers from Redondo Beach.

AGATE AND ONYX

The distinction between agate and onyx is not apparent to everyone, as is indicated by the samples of the two minerals received by the United States geological survey with requests for information. Onyx marble, or Mexican onyx, is composed of calcium carbonate or banded limestone. True agate is a variety of silica. Onyx marble is much softer than agate and is rarely used for gems, but when onyx is obtained in pieces of sufficient size, it is cut and polished for small ornamental objects like inkstands and paper weights as well as for table tops and soda-water fountains.

The woman's club justifies its existence by an abundance of good, useful work.

ST. MARGARET GIRLS

MEMBERS OF EPISCOPAL GUILD HOLD ENJOYABLE PICNIC SUPPER

One of the most enjoyable and informal affairs of the season was that given by the St. Margaret girls on Friday evening at the Guild hall in St. Mark's church in the form of a picnic supper. The entertainment embraced a two fold purpose; a compliment to Mrs. Eva Black Peck, the most recent guild bride and Miss Elizabeth Lange, a bride to be of the very near future.

The table was most artistically decorated with pink roses and asparagus plumosus while kewpie place cards added to its attractiveness. The table fairly groaned with the delicious viands which were most thoroughly enjoyed by the merry party. These having been disposed of, a cup was passed, around, into which was put fifty cents by each member, who as she made the donation told how she had earned the money for the guild, which caused much merriment and many peals of laughter. The two fair guests of honor were presented with the guild's wedding gift to its brides, a Christ head by Hoffmann, handsomely framed and accompanied by a dainty note of good wishes.

An amusing feature of the evening was the cutting of the bride's cake which was cut by the two honored guests and each member given a piece, the recipients of the lucky symbols being, Miss Mattiebelle Provolt, the silver slipper; Miss Ethel Land, the silver coin; Miss Mazie McCann, the ring and Miss Grace Crampton, the thimble.

The supper and entertainment being over, music and dancing were enjoyed for awhile after which the entire party adjourned in automobiles to the home of Miss Lange, 904 Dryden street where they were permitted to gaze upon the exquisite trousseau of the bride-to-be. Those who enjoyed this long-to-be-remembered red letter day were: Misses Irene and Ethel Read, Ethel B. Land, Maizie McCann, Arline Hallihan, Amy Bowerfind, Mattiebelle Provolt, Gertrude Champlain, Pauline Scholz, Bess Phillips, Lillian Mills, Agnes Frostick, Grace Crampton, Olga and Athena Purt, Mrs. Eva Black Peck and Miss Elizabeth Lange. Out of town guests were Miss Marguerite Hunter of Covington, Ky., Miss Behrensmeyer of Illinois and Miss Petty of Boulder, Col.

BIRTHDAY LUNCHEON

Mrs. David Black of Kenneth Road in North Glendale gave a pleasant luncheon Saturday afternoon at one o'clock in honor of her mother, Mrs. Ruby J. Scott, on the occasion of her eightieth birthday. In symbolical representation of Mrs. Scott's christian name, Ruby, the color scheme was red. The center piece on the table consisted of fuschias. The favors were made from corn and little baskets cleverly constructed from corn husks filled with almonds stood by the place cards which bore the dates, 1835-1915.

A magnificent birthday cake baked by Mrs. Black and adorned with 80 red candles was a feature of the table. After luncheon the guests assembled on the sixty foot porch and amused themselves with various games. Those present were: Mrs. Kate Moody, Highland Park, Ill., Mrs. A. W. Beach, 333 N. Brand Boulevard; Mrs. John Horsch, Mrs. F. A. Field, Mrs. Adamson, Mrs. Albert Dow, Mrs. Daniel Fuller, Mrs. C. T. Van Etten, Mrs. Jennie Cornwell, Miss Grace Black, Miss Esther Black, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Black.

TO HOLD DOUBLE RECEPTION

Those who have arranged to attend the dinner to be given in the Presbyterian church tomorrow evening at 6.30 o'clock will enjoy a very unique entertainment. The dinner is being given in honor of Miss Helen Smith, the well known missionary of SooChow, China, who is home on a furlough. After dinner a reception and musicale will be given to the new members of the church who were admitted at the last communion. The reception committee will consist of members of the church, taken from the roll beginning with those whose names begin with L and ending with those whose names begin with R.

The following numbers have been arranged: Miss Lois Jones, harpist of Los Angeles will give several selections. The Misses Porter and Jones will give several numbers on the harp and violin. Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan will give appropriate readings. Miss Candee of Eagle Rock will delight the company with her clever whistling solos accompanied by her mother, Mrs. G. E. Can- will be free to all members of the church.

LESSON OF EASTLAND TRAGEDY

Tragedies like that of the Eastland, which capsized in Chicago river, Saturday, will continue to occur at intervals in every part of the country as long as official inspection remains the farce it so often is. Those who remember the disaster of the General Slocum in the river at New York, where hundreds of men, women and children lost their lives, cannot forget the "life preservers" that were stuffed with iron instead of cork and the horrible tale of the dead who had trusted to be saved by them. Yet "inspectors" had passed the equipment of that excursion vessel as all right and up to government requirements.

In similar fashion the Iroquois theater at Chicago was indorsed by inspectors and yet when the fire occurred 673 persons lost their lives because the doors were stuck fast with paint, the fire escape doors would not open and the so-called "safety" door on the main stairway was fastened.

In the case of the Titanic there was negligence in the equiping of the vessel; yet the equipment carried was up to legal requirements, which apparently counted on saving only a proportion of the passengers in case of disaster. The Lusitania went down with her human freight through over-confidence and ignorance of the probable action of a high explosive torpedo.

None of these accidents, if they can be called by that name, were so absolutely without defense as the sinking of the Eastland in Chicago river with the loss of about 1000 lives. The inspectors should have known whether or not the vessel was properly ballasted and whether or not she was overloaded. It is asserted that the tug that was to warp the vessel out of the harbor began pulling too soon and that the rush of the passengers to one side capsized the boat. That is no excuse at all for the disaster, though it is an explanation. Why should any vessel, if properly built, capsize when its human freight rushes to one side. It is usually understood that a passenger vessel is able to carry its passengers without such risk.

Whatever may be said the fact remains that the vessel capsized in a harbor and that about 1000 people were drowned. Nothing can restore the fathers and mothers to their families or the children to their parents. The tragedy affects the homes of the poor who have little need in these hard times for any additional calamity.

There will be the usual investigation which will lock the door after the steed has been stolen. For a time there will be some strictness in inspection of passenger ships and after a period it will be all forgotten until the next big disaster. The excursion business will not suffer much. People will throng the steamers just as they thronged the theaters after the Iroquois fire, and then some other negligence of officialdom will send another thousand out of the world by the route of "accident." If the recent disaster will stimulate thorough inspection of the Pacific coast boats and an insistence on compliance everywhere with the regulations devised for the safety of passengers some good will have resulted. Any way the great lesson for sensible people is one that should be insisted on at all times, "Don't go with crowds."

FORESTS FOR RECREATION

There is no doubt that the population of the cities is anxious especially in hot weather to get away to the coolness and other attractions of the forests. To minister to this desire the government is taking many steps and encouraging it in every way. Throughout the National Forests there are a multitude of small lakes and streams and points of scenic attraction. Many thousands of people are going every year into the National Forests for recreation purposes.

Not only are the points of special interest being protected from injury by forest fires or otherwise, but improvements in the way of roads and trails are very rapidly making these interesting areas available to the public. This creates a demand for hotels and cottages, and summer communities are springing up in great numbers.

In California when the fruit canning season closes in the hot San Joaquin valley, thousands of small farm owners load up a camp outfit on a wagon and start for the Sierra and Sequoia National forests. Each takes his wife, children and dogs, and while the family gains new health in the timber camp on the edge of some mountain meadow the farmer cuts his year supply of cedar posts and shoots the two deer which the law allows him.

Wherever there is a forest of this kind there can be seen a steady influx of health and pleasure seekers in the summer time. The possession of a natural park of any kind is a very great benefit to any city and where some kind of camping ground lies close at hand it is wisdom to pack a tent and a few cooking utensile and some provisions and spend a few days in the open air and in new environments.

How eagerly city people seek the change to the quiet and peace of Nature can be seen in the hundreds who take advantage of Verdugo park Saturdays and Sundays. Under the cool shade of the sycamores and the live oaks the jaded city dweller renews his youth and gains rest for his tired soul. Such a resort should be supported and given every encouragement. Even if all cannot get away to the real forest reserve many may derive both health and pleasure from the neighboring park.

UNIQUE INSURANCE COMPANY

Check No. 1 for $100 has been issued by the Horse Insurance association of the U. S. Forest Service in payment of the claim of Ranger J. B. Stephenson, stationed on the Cleveland National Forest in Southern California. One of Stephenson's horses was recently injured while working with a construction crew on the forest, and had to be shot. Satisfactory proof of loss was made to association headquarters in San Francisco and prompt payment was made to Mr. Stephenson.

This Insurance association is not a government institution, but was recently formed by the Forest Rangers of the California-Nevada district of the Federal Forest Service for the purpose of distributing the loss that occurs when saddle and pack animals owned by its members are killed or disabled. It is purely mutual in character, funds to pay losses being provided by means of a small quarterly assessment. All forest officers of the district are eligible for membership in the association, each member being assessed a small amount to provide a fund from which to pay loss. The amount of assessment depends on the losses incurred during a quarterly period.

At present over two hundred horses are insured and it is expected that this number will be greatly increased during the summer, when the forest force will reach its maximum strength of from eight hundred to nine hundred men.

The Auto Black Book is hereafter to play an important part in keeping violations of the rules of the road to a minimum. Whenever it is made known that an autoist has not observed the rules, whether or not an accident has resulted, his name is to go down in the auto Black Book for future reference so that if, in the future, he has an accident, the fact that he has previously violated the rules will go against him. This ought to be a very forceful method of making auto drivers study the rules and comply with them.

In order that an adequate record may be preserved to posterity of the architectural beauties of that part of Belgium which has been devastated by the belligerent armies, a committee has been appointed by the Royal Institute of British Architects to collect photographs, drawings and old prints of all buildings of historic interest. The committee will also gather complete maps and plans of towns, illustrated guide books to individual towns and any other works which may be of value along similar lines. The collection when completed will constitute a special wing of the society's library.

The rights, immunities and interests of the "ultimate consumer" should be respected.

WHY YOU

Bank of Glendale

California laws regulating this bank are among the strongest in the United States. In these laws are defined just what loans a bank may make. Regular examinations are made by the state banking superintendent and the Los Angeles Clearing House examiner. The funds are protected by a good screw door safe in a vault fortified with an electric burglar alarm, in addition to being insured against burglary or hold-up. All officers are bonded.

The Bank of Glendale makes no loans to any of its officers or directors. Disinterestedness in those having care of your money is thus assured.

Keep in mind that we do a COMMERCIAL AND SAVINGS bank business, that we are provided with all that is to be desired in safety and service.

WORRY

Worry is the great American habit. Our peculiar civilization makes it chronic. We are the champion worriers of the universe. The African is happy; Oriental fatalism prevents a dissatisfaction with the Asiatic; the European, in peace, is usually content.

But we worry because Jones next door has an automobile. Our brethren of the other continents would merely accept Jones as a superior being and let it go at that. We don't.

So we go on worrying because Jones has an automobile, because Mrs. Jones has a new gown and because we may have some trouble in scraping together the money for next month's rent and food bills. And we know all the time that worrying won't ever get us the motor car, the gown, or pay the rent; in fact, it takes away whatever little joy there might be in living.

We know that it impairs our health and destroys our efficiency; it spoils our chances of ever attaining anything.

Yes, worry is a great thing—for doctors and undertakers.

Must civilization go back into swaddling clothes and grow up again?

There are those who believe that the silent drama will have the last word.

1916 DEMONSTRATOR HERE

The local Overland Auto and Sales Co., of 1312 W. Broadway, have received the 5-passenger demonstrating car of Model 83, which sells f. o. b. Glendale for $865. Many Glendale people express themselves as pleased with this new car. The long, low, streamline body is unmarred by angles or projections. From the rounded edge of the radiator to the full curved back, there is not a break in the lines. The hood slopes gently upward and blends into the beautifully curved cowl. The doors are flush, with hinges concealed and handles inside. The fenders are long and sweeping in their curves with gracefully rounded surfaces. The running boards are clean and free from obstructions, the storage battery concealed, the tire carriers placed at the rear. The windshield is built in and conforms to the curve of the cowl—a part of the car itself, not an apparent afterthought.

The car is superbly finished in a rich deep Brewster green, delicately striped with pure ivory white, and set off in pleasing contrast by black enameled radiator, fenders and running board shield.

Industrial arbitration has become the rule, the disastrous strike the exception.

The dogmatist must appear infinitesimally small to infinite wisdom and understanding.

ARTIST GETS A JOLT

De Auber (proudly)—Here is a little painting I have just finished. What do you think of it, old chap?

Artless—It isn't half bad. By the way, did you draw on your imagination for those ostriches in the background?

De Auber—Ostriches! Why, you measly, squint-eyed duffer, those are angels!—Indianapolis Star.

A subscriber to the Texarkanian writes to that paper: "What kind of dern news do you print, anyhow? One day I noticed that the governor of Georgia is hung in Effigy. The next day I seen he was still alive. Will you please tell me where Effigy is at? I lived in Georgia for twenty years and I never heard of no such town and I don't believe there is any. If you can't print the truth, please stop my paper."

BURBANK

Our travels over Burbank the past week took us down two of the principal streets, across the S. P. tracks and out into the suburbs. Olive and Magnolia streets are the ones in question and if you have not traveled that way recently you may not realize the conditions existent. These two streets are of the most importance to our city, Magnolia being the main thoroughfare to Lankershim and the county boulevard system, connecting it and the San Fernando road. Olive street is the street beautiful, with its wide driveway and parkings lined with immense pepper trees and located as it is along the highest part of the ground, our city forefathers very wisely commenced to number each way east and west from it.

But what strikes the stranger unfavorably is the condition of the roadway after crossing the S. P. tracks, and still inside the city limits, is the common dirt road, with its dust, which rises in clouds after every passing team and auto, floating out and covering the orchards and into the many pretty homes that line these streets, making it impossible for them to keep clean.

Without doubt, our city dads are doing the very best they can with what they have to do with, yet these conditions demand their attention. A regular visit of the sprinkling wagon would help. Property owners tell us that they would gladly donate labor to help the city fill up chuckholes and level down the uneven spots. Then perhaps a coat or two of oil would change the conditions and not be very expensive.

Let's get busy and eliminate these two awful strips of road and then continue on some of the side roads and the traveler and the inhabitants of that new section of our city will rise up and call us blessed.

The new grocery store on Fourth street in the Faxon building, opened up its doors for customers last Saturday and while not yet as complete as it will be, enjoyed a satisfactory bsuiness. From a personal inspection we found a nice stock of seasonable goods and our people will find Mr. W. D. Rogers, the proprietor, and his daughter, who will assist him behind the counters, as most pleasant people to do business with. This store is the first to leave the beaten track of the San Fernando road, and the people of that immediate locality should patronize it accordingly. Help the business section spread and by so doing increase property values.

Mrs. L. E. Ledford of Verdugo avenue moved to Los Angeles last Saturday.

J. D. Wilkes of South Verdugo avenue returned from Hermosa Beach Saturday, having completed the job of carpenter work on which he had been engaged for the past three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James MacNamara of Los Angeles were the guests of the L. B. Davidson family at their pleasant home on East Providencia street Sunday.

C. H. Ritchie of Verdugo and Crescent avenues has a fine bunch of Berkshire hogs taking care of the windfalls on his peach orchard, which sure looked like "back east" to our eyes last Saturday.

Mrs. F. A. Tetley of Riverside was in the city Saturday on business connected with the business block she owns here.

Miss Pearl Willey returned to her home at Downey Saturday after a two weeks' visit here with her sister, Mrs. Henderson.

Mrs. L. C. F. Schultz, who has been a visitor at the home of her son on Central avenue for the past two months, started on the return trip of her journey Monday.

Ray Willey is taking an enforced vacation from his labors in the Olson blacksmith shop for a few days. An injured finger is the cause.

Willie Farrar made a trip to Glendale last Friday evening, where he joined the merry crowd of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, who to the number of about forty traveled in state on the Bullis truck to Highland Park, where they participated in the good time and refreshments incidental to the Rebekah installation of officers at that place.

Walter McCall, who has been the popular P. E. station agent at this place for so long a time, left for Rialto on Monday, where he will perform the same duties for the traveling public there. His many friends regret to have him leave Burbank and their best wishes go with him to his new location.

Mr. Ole Frogner and son of Harmony, Mich., were guests at the Axel Christenson home on Tenth street Friday and Saturday last.

Ira Dillinger and wife left Saturday for San Francisco and will take in the sights of the Bay City and its Panama-Pacific exposition for the next ten days or so.

Miss Claire Glenn left for San Diego Saturday, where she visits her friend, Miss Clara Clark, for a few days and incidentally looks over the big fair for a while.

Mr. Barnes, the man who was so badly injured last week when the Jeff Thrasher team ran away with him, crushing his head under the hayrake, from which he was thrown, was operated on at the Thompson hospital Wednesday and his condition is still considered quite serious.

Mr. William Thompson of Glendale was interviewing our citizens Friday and Saturday in the interests of this paper and met with a very cordial reception.

M. M. McGearry is the new man who comes to take the position of P. E. agent at this point. Mr. McGearry comes from Alhambra, and without doubt will be made welcome with the usual true Burbank spirit of hospitality.

CALIFORNIA BLUE BULLETIN

SACRAMENTO, July 26.—The second number of the educational blue bulletin was issued recently by the state printing office. This number is edited by Edwin R. Snyder, the commissioner of vocational education.

It has thirty pages of matter, mostly consisting of a digest of all the new educational laws that were placed on the statute books by the late legislature. This will prove interesting and valuable for all people concerned in any way with the public schools. The bulletins are sent to superintendents, trustees and teachers; others may get them upon request from Superintendent Edward Hyatt at Sacramento.

The bulletin also contains a picture and a description of the Russian thistle, one of the most dangerous weeds known to the world.

This was introduced into California along the transcontinental railroad lines, probably from the bedding and the clothes of the freshly imported European laborers. It now has a firm hold in many places and it is particularly ominous to the hay and grain growing parts of the state.

Warnings have been sent out by Dr. Cook, the horticultural commissioner. It is very important for the children of California to be able to recognize the weed and to get their minds turned toward its eradication. The teachers can do a useful work by using and emphasizing the important lesson thus placed in their hands.

ROOSEVELT AT THE FAIR

SAN DIEGO, July 26.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt is the honored guest of the San Diego exposition today and has consented to deliver an address tomorrow afternoon, which has been designated Roosevelt Day at the exposition.

Communications between Colonel Roosevelt and President G. A. Davidson of the exposition with regard to the program for Roosevelt Day reveal a tone of insistance upon the part of the former president that formality and much-to-do about his visit would be distasteful to him. He authorizes the declination of other invitations to make speeches than that at the exposition grounds.

To meet the colonel's wishes with regard to dinner engagements, the exposition has curtailed such to one informal dinner, that on the evening of July 27 at the Cafe Cristobal on the exposition grounds. Mrs. Roosevelt will accompany Colonel Roosevelt and it is hoped they will accept the favor of a reception in their honor by the official women's board of the exposition.

An escort of First Cavalry troops will conduct Roosevelt to the grounds on Roosevelt Day and it also is probable that a body guard of the colonel's Rough Riders of Spanish war service will be on hand. Colonel R. E. Twitchell, president of the New Mexico exposition commission, is recruiting such a guard among the veterans of the famous command in New Mexico.

It also is probable that Roosevelt will be joined at the exposition by Hiram Johnson, governor of California, Roosevelt's running mate in the last presidential campaign.

Ropes made of various kinds of fiber and leather are of very ancient date. Ropes of palm have been found in Egypt in the tombs of Beni-Hassan (about 3000 B. C.) and on the walls of these tombs is also shown the process of preparing hemp. In a tomb at Thebes of the time of Thotmes III (about 1600 B. C.) is a group representing the process of twisting thongs of leather and the method of cutting leather into thongs.
